Anglo-Continental offers teacher training courses designed to develop the knowledge and teaching skills of people who teach English to secondary and adult learners, and also people who are interested in teaching as a career.

Course T-1.20

The core of the language and methodology course consists of 20 lessons per week of language teaching methodology and personal language development. In this course, participants will explore and experience lively and creative teaching strategies and teaching aids, gaining ideas designed to refresh their teaching and to extend their own language proficiency. Contexts for language development work will reflect the interests of the group and will include aspects of British life and culture.

Course T-1.25

In addition to the core 20 lessons per week, participants on this course will have 5 additional lessons of preparation and practice for the Cambridge University Teaching Knowledge Test (TKT) modules 1, 2 and 3. Participants can enrol for all or just one of the modules and the additional sessions will provide them with the opportunity to work through material and sample test exercises appropriate to them. These lessons include feedback and guidance from the trainer.

- Module 1 – Language and background to language learning and teaching
- Module 2 – Planning lessons and use of resources for language teaching
- Module 3 – Managing the teaching and learning process
- Review of all modules and exam preparation

Further Information: Please refer to our 2017 Prospectus for fees and other information.

It is recommended that participants wishing to take all three modules should enrol for the full four weeks.
